
BUYER TIP 1
UNDER CONTRACT? INSPECT FIRST.
BOOK YOUR INSPECTION RIGHT AWAY
Once you're under contract, the clock starts. Here's how I recommend using your inspection window.

BUYER TIP 2

NC: USE YOUR DUE DILIGENCE PERIOD

- On NC's standard contract (Form 2-T), you can end the deal for any reason during this period
- That's the window for inspections, specialists and repair talks
- The due diligence fee is generally non-refundable, so have inspectors lined up

BUYER TIP 3

SC: KNOW YOUR CONTRACT'S DATES

- Your purchase contract sets the inspection terms and deadlines
- If it's contingent on a satisfactory inspection, you may be able to cancel without penalty (CFPB)
- Put every deadline on your calendar the day you sign

BUYER TIP 4

HIRE A LICENSED INSPECTOR

- NC: paid home inspections require a license from the NC Home Inspector Licensure Board (G.S. 143-151.50)
- SC: home inspectors must be licensed by the SC Residential Builders Commission (S.C. Code 40-59-520)
- Choose someone accountable to you (CFPB)

BUYER TIP 5

BE THERE AND ASK QUESTIONS

- Attending makes the report easier to understand (CFPB)
- Ask what wasn't inspected. In SC, the report must note it (S.C. Code 40-59-560)
- Take notes and photos as you walk

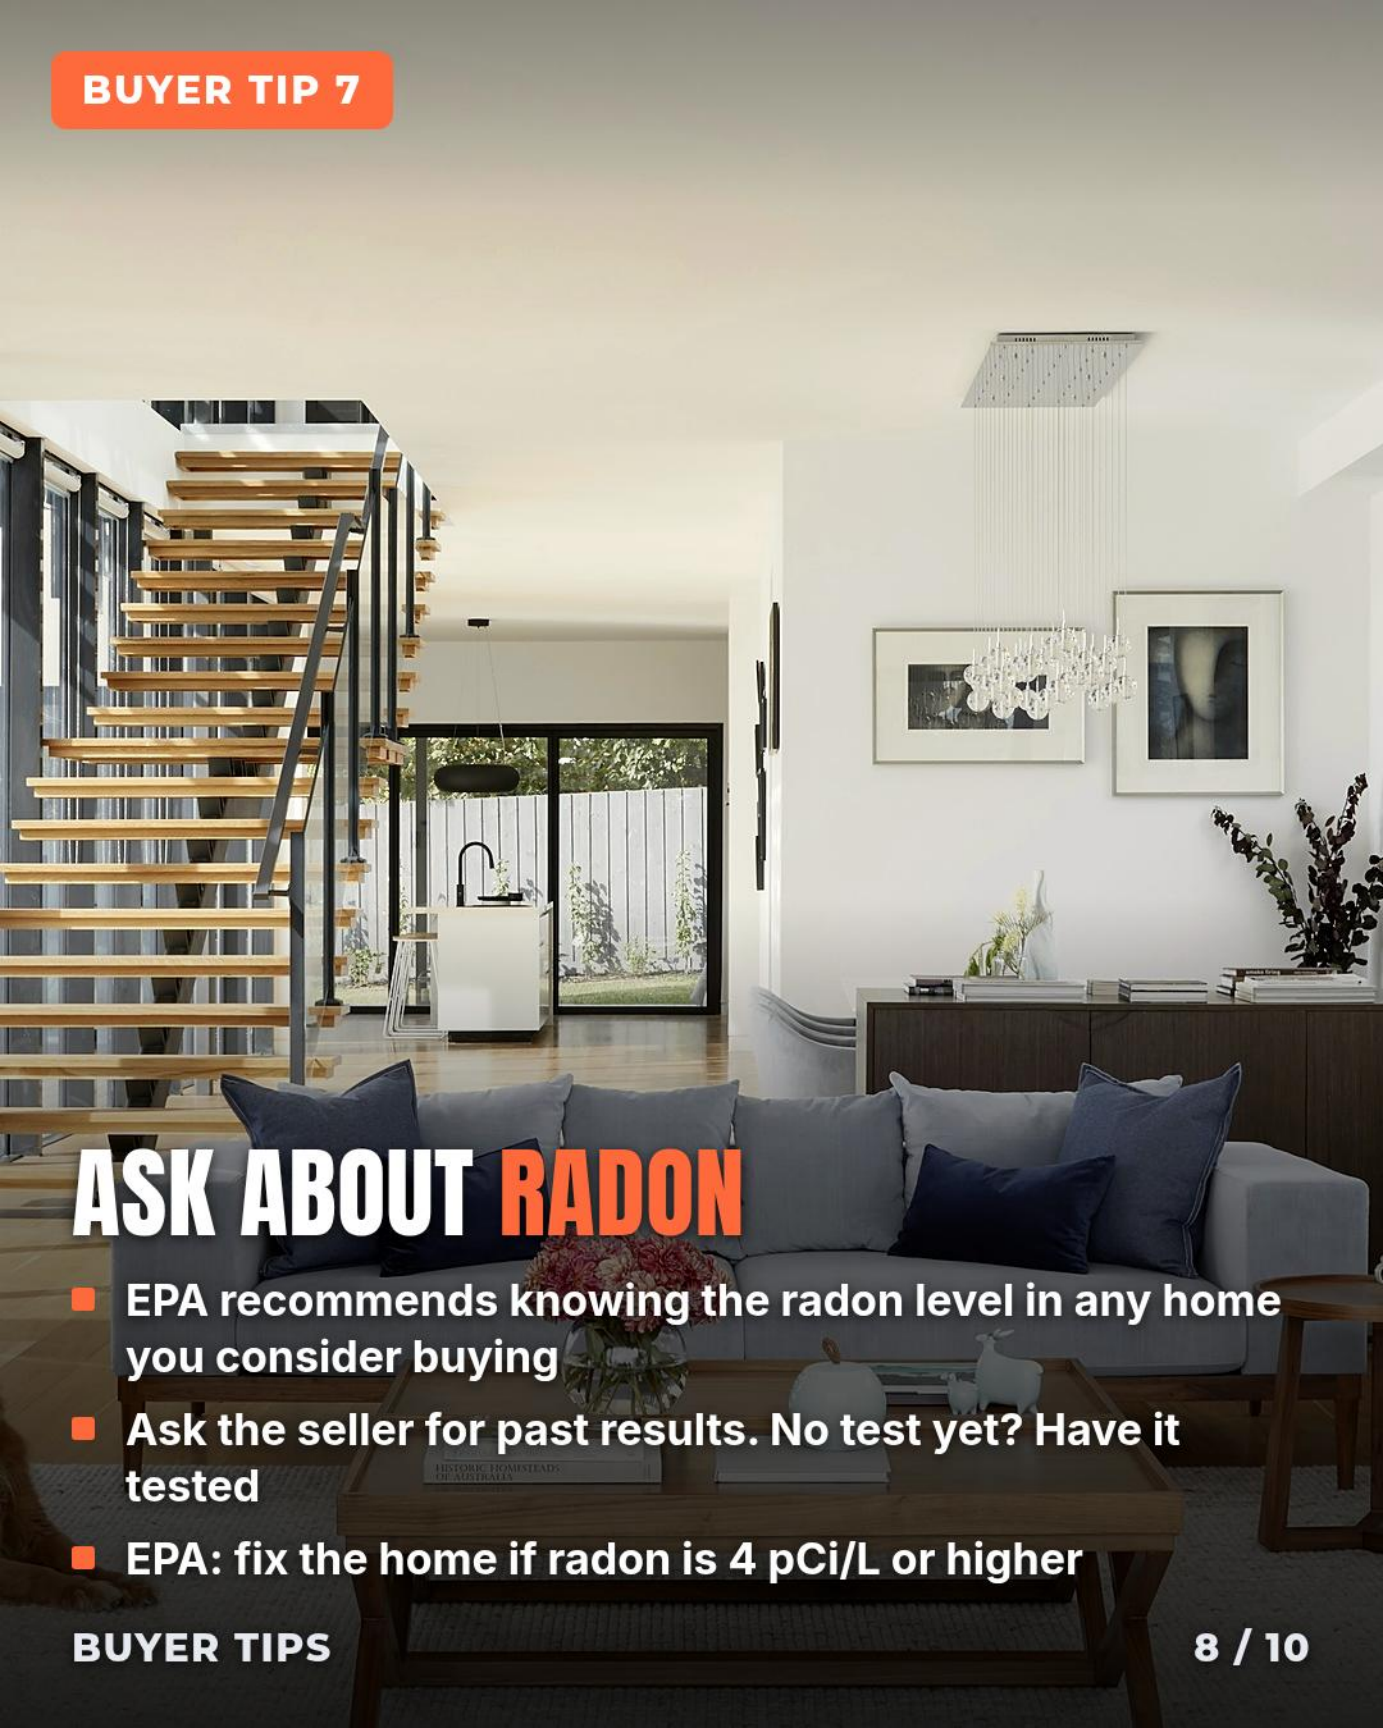

BUYER TIP 6

READ THE WHOLE REPORT

- NC: the report is due by the agreed date, or within 3 business days (G.S. 143-151.58)
- NC's summary page says it plainly: it is not the entire report
- Items flagged for a specialist deserve a closer look

BUYER TIP 7

ASK ABOUT RADON

- EPA recommends knowing the radon level in any home you consider buying
- Ask the seller for past results. No test yet? Have it tested
- EPA: fix the home if radon is 4 pCi/L or higher

BUYER TIP 8

THEN NEGOTIATE CALMLY

- You can ask the seller to make repairs or give a credit (CFPB)
- The seller may or may not agree, depending on your contract and the market (CFPB)
- Your lender may require some repairs before closing (CFPB)

MY RECOMMENDATION
PICK YOUR INSPECTOR BEFORE YOU OFFER
I recommend it so the first days of your window go to answers, not phone calls. Let's plan it together.
