
SELLER TIP 1
LISTING SOON? PREP FIRST.
FIX THE SMALL STUFF BEFORE BUYERS SEE IT
Most of what buyers notice can be handled before the sign goes up. Here's the prep order I recommend.

SELLER TIP 2

WALK IT LIKE A BUYER

- Start at the curb, then the front door, then every room
- Write down scuffs, drips, sticky doors and dead bulbs
- Ask a friend to do the same walk. Fresh eyes catch more

SELLER TIP 3

CLEAR, CLEAN, THEN PAINT

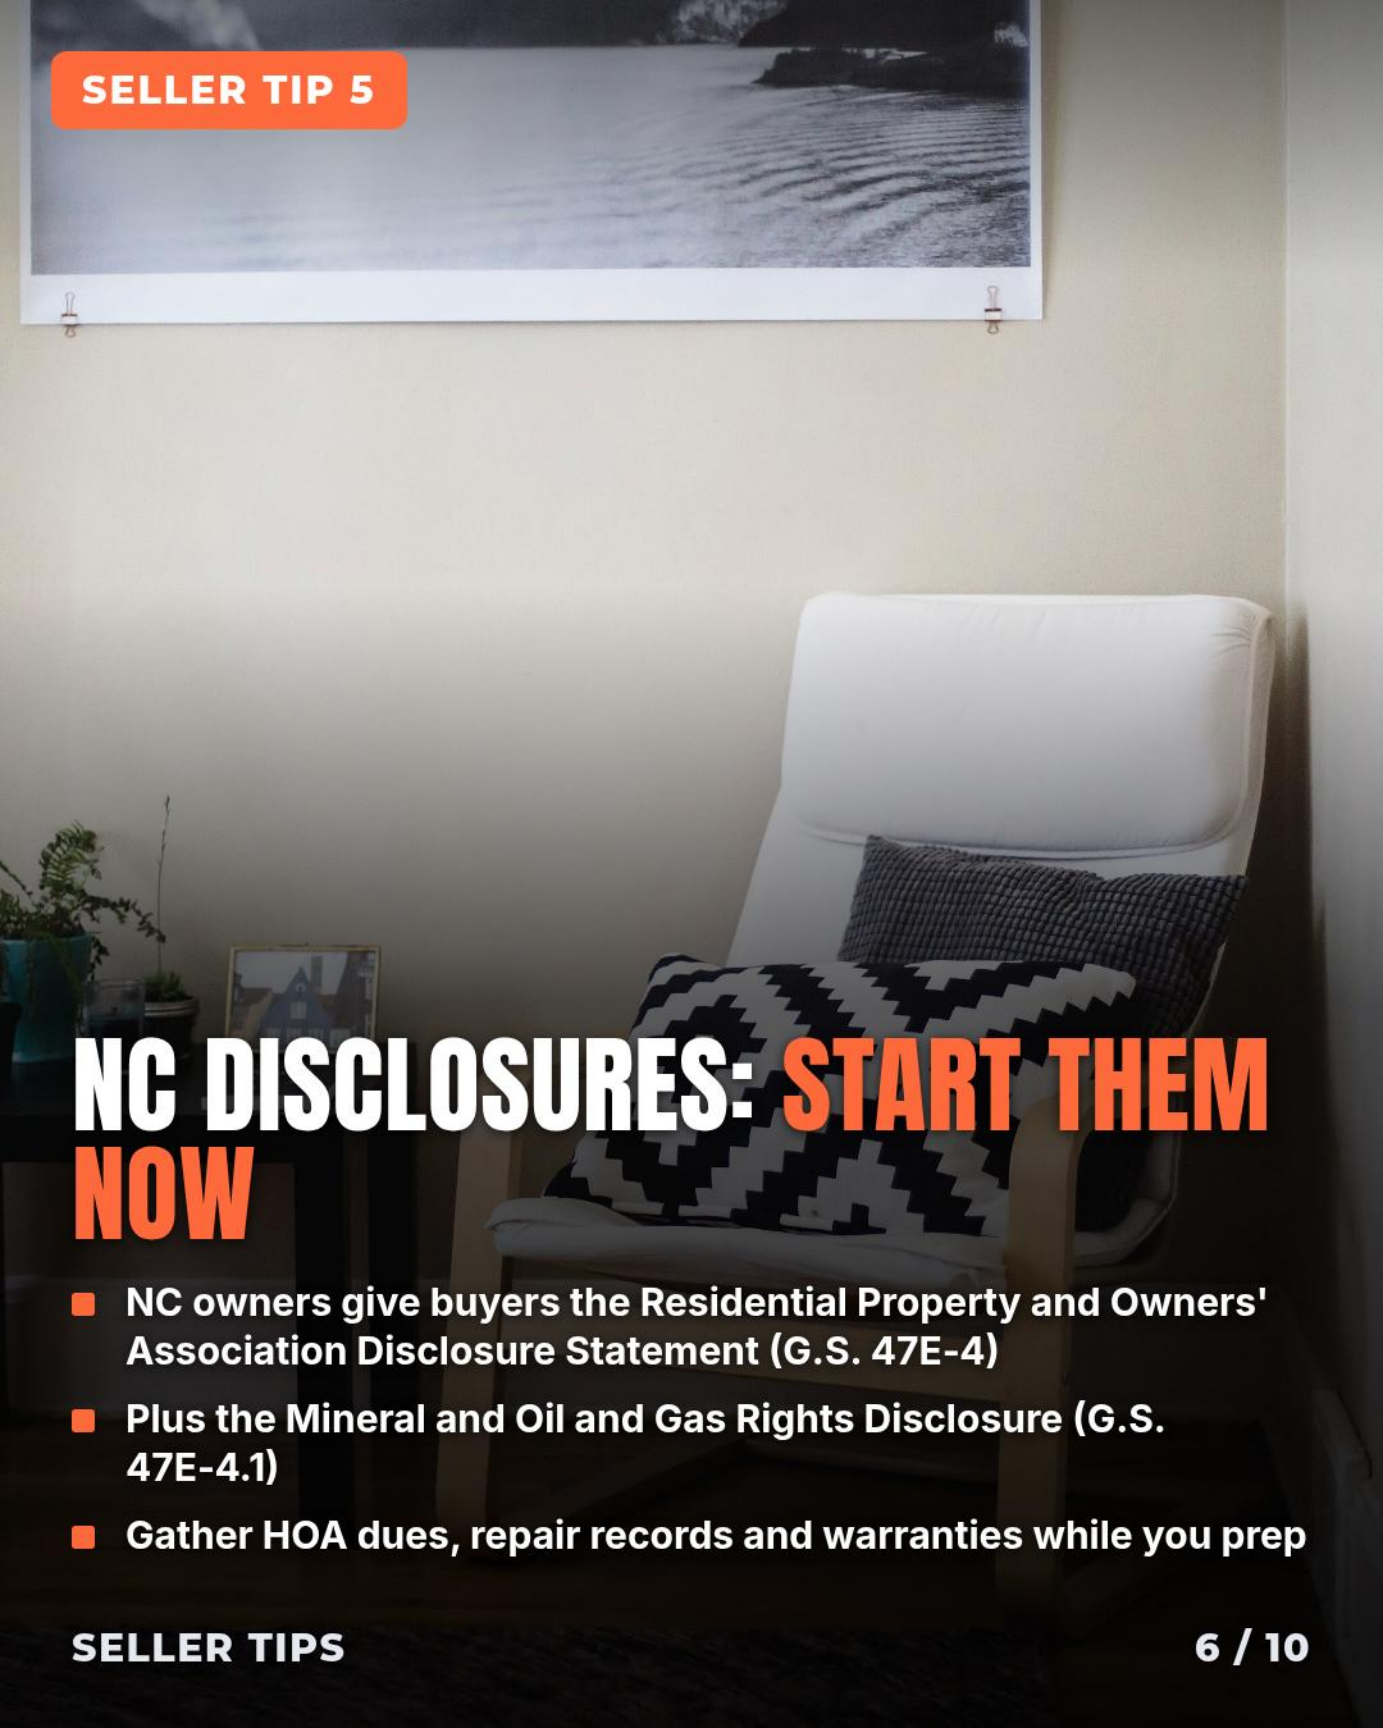

- Pack what you won't need before moving day
- Deep-clean kitchens, baths and windows
- Minor cosmetic updates like paint, fixtures and landscaping typically pay off (Realtor.com)

SELLER TIP 4

FIND PROBLEMS BEFORE THE BUYER DOES

- Consider a pre-listing inspection
- Fix anything leaking, broken or unsafe
- Skip the big remodel: major renovations rarely return full cost (Realtor.com)

SELLER TIP 5

NC DISCLOSURES: START THEM NOW

- NC owners give buyers the Residential Property and Owners' Association Disclosure Statement (G.S. 47E-4)
- Plus the Mineral and Oil and Gas Rights Disclosure (G.S. 47E-4.1)
- Gather HOA dues, repair records and warranties while you prep

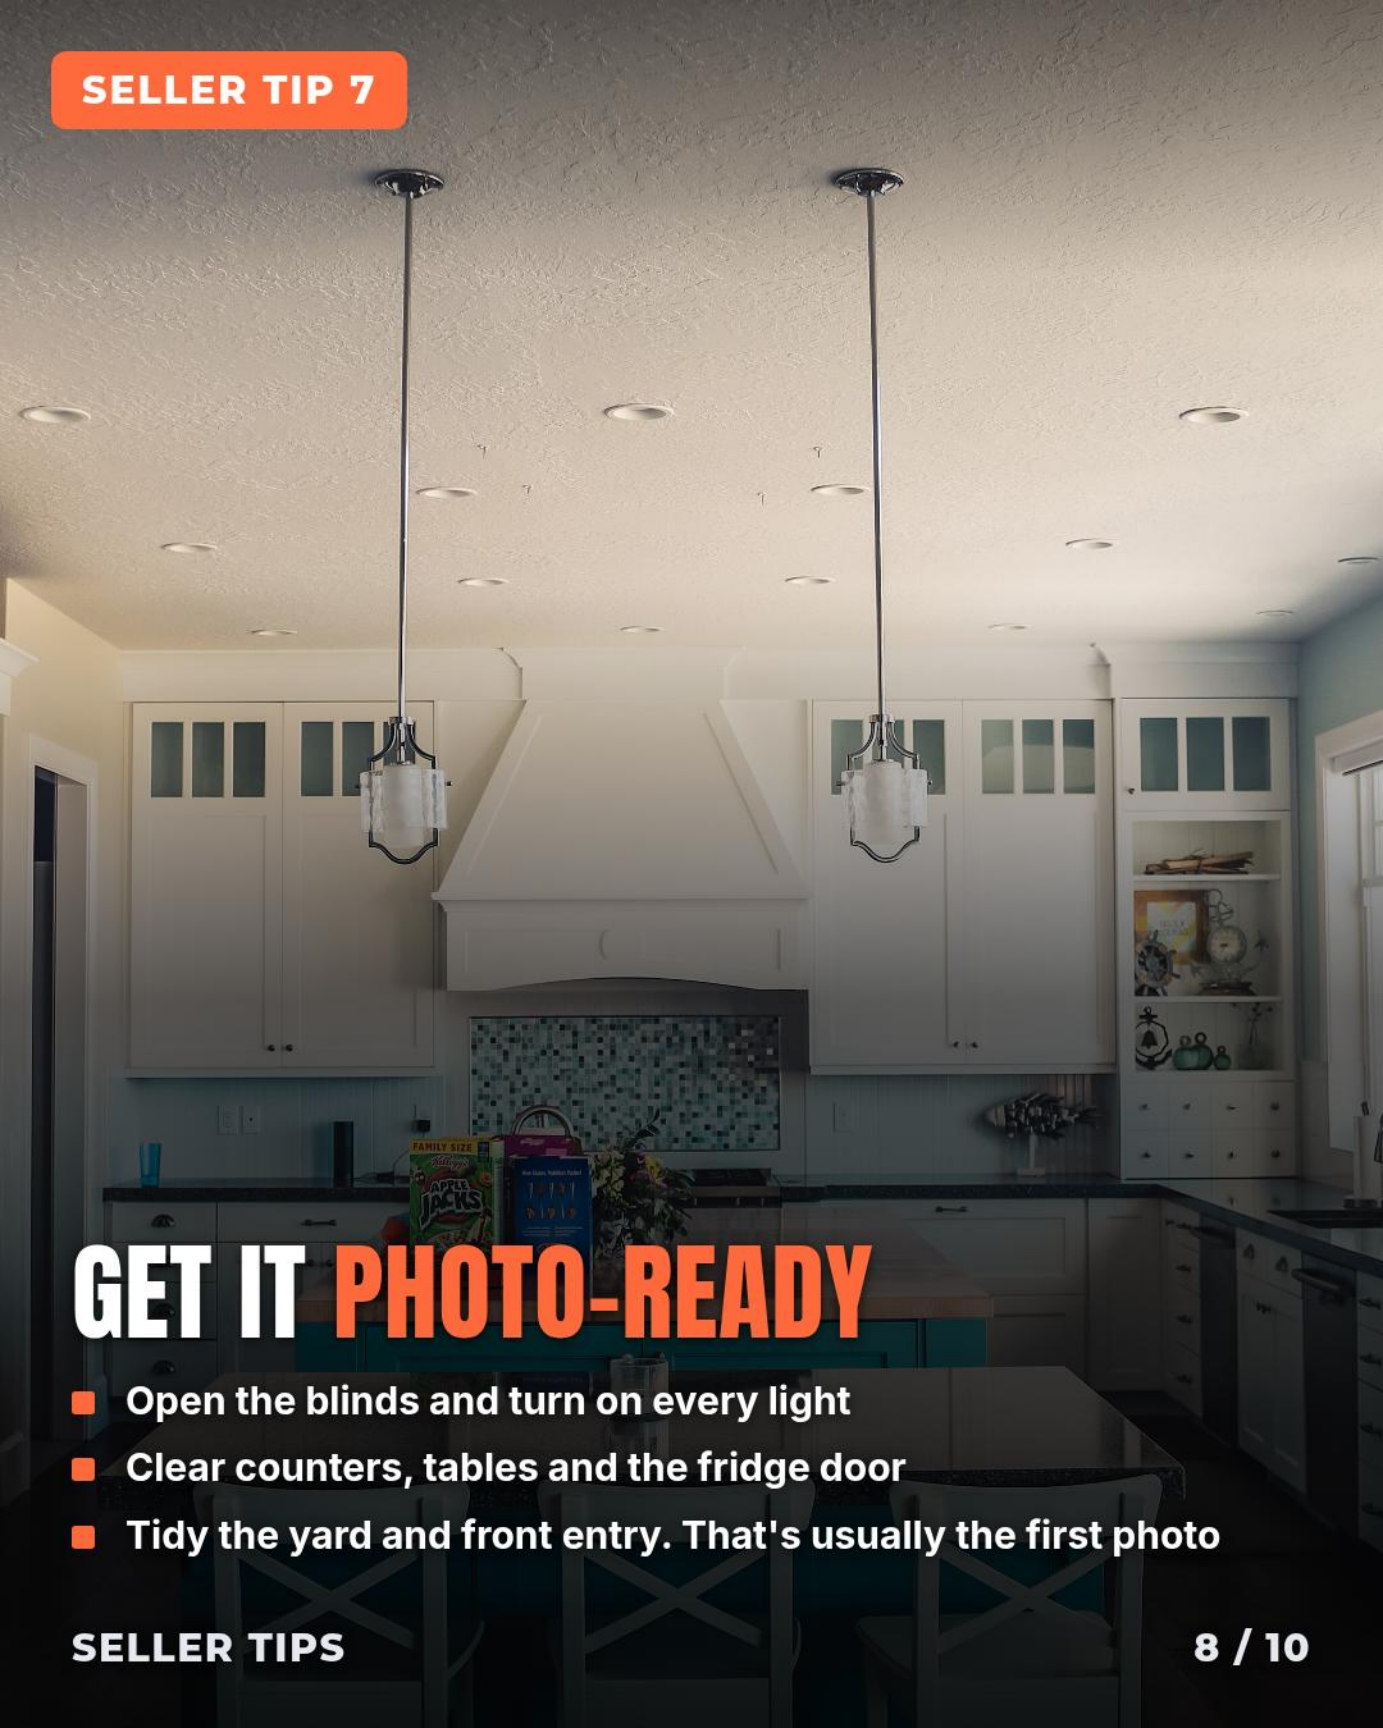

SELLER TIP 6

SC SELLERS AND OLDER HOMES

- SC: owners deliver a written disclosure statement before the contract is signed (S.C. Code 27-50-50)
- Built before 1978? Federal rules require a lead-based paint disclosure, EPA's pamphlet, and a 10-day inspection window buyers can waive (EPA)

GET IT PHOTO-READY

- Open the blinds and turn on every light
- Clear counters, tables and the fridge door
- Tidy the yard and front entry. That's usually the first photo

SELLER TIP 8

PRICE FROM THE SOLDS

- Start with recent nearby sales of similar homes, not list prices
- Factor in the condition after your prep
- Pricing accuracy directly affects buyer interest and days on market (Realtor.com)

MY RECOMMENDATION

START PREP 30 DAYS OUT

Walk it, fix it and start your disclosures. Then let's price it from the solds together.
