COMPARE • DOLLARS VS. PERCENT

$5,000 OR 3%?

Two ways today's builders post closing help

- A dollar cap: Eastwood lists up to $3,500 or $5,000 with its preferred lender
- A percent: M/I lists up to 3% of base price with M/I Financial
- Ask each builder for the dollar figure on the exact home you like

Comparison based on each builder's posted offer terms, read Nov 1, 2026. Terms and eligibility set by the builder; subject to change.

TIP • BEFORE YOU SIGN

ASK WHAT IT COVERS.

From the builders' posted terms

- M/I's credit can go to closing costs, prepaids or a rate buydown, not a price cut
- M/I's terms exclude home inspection and radon fees
- Both offers use the builder's lender, so compare a second Loan Estimate

Tip based on M/I Homes' and Eastwood Homes' posted offer terms, read Nov 1, 2026. Terms and eligibility set by the builder; subject to change.

CHECK THE DATES.

What each builder posts

- M/I Homes: contract by Dec 1, 2026 and close by Dec 31, 2026
- Eastwood Homes: contracts on or after Jan 1, 2026; no end date posted
- Eastwood says its promotions can change or stop at any time

Tip based on M/I Homes' and Eastwood Homes' posted offer terms, read Nov 1, 2026. Terms and eligibility set by the builder; subject to change.
